- Fraternity or sorority officer
- Other _____
- I haven't assumed any leadership roles at UCF.

The fourth Milestone category is High-Impact Learning, which recognizes a student's successful participation in a learning activity that typically demands considerable time and effort, facilitates learning outside the classroom, requires meaningful interactions with faculty and other students, encourages collaboration with diverse others, and provides frequent and substantive feedback. Such activities might include internships, co-ops, Honors in the Major, LEAD Scholars Academy, the McNair Program, Service Learning, independent study with a faculty mentor, a learning community, capstone course, or special projects.

4. Which of the following have you participated in? Please select all that apply.

- Honors in the Major
- LEAD Scholars Academy
- McNair Program
- RAMP Program
- Senior design project
- Service-learning course
- Internship
- Co-op
- Study abroad
- Course assignment such as group project
- Capstone course for the major
- Independent study with a faculty mentor
- Other _____
- None of these

The final Milestone category is called Knights in the World, and it recognizes a student's contributions beyond UCF. These are activities, either paid or unpaid, that demand a substantial commitment of time and energy and that require the application of a student's skills and knowledge beyond UCF. Such activities could include: work, familiar responsibilities, community engagement, or volunteering.

5. Which of the following activities are you involved in? Please select all that apply.

- I work a part/full-time
- I am active in my religious organization (beyond attending services).
- I volunteer with a community organization or charity.
- I volunteer with a political campaign or organization.
- Other _____
- I am not involved in any activities outside of UCF.
